

CAPITALIST PAYS COMPLIMENTS TO YAVAPAI

Cornelius O'Connor Gives County High Place In Mining

(From Saturday's Daily.)
Impressed with the outlook that Yavapai county will prove with intelligent development among the richest mineral sections of the west, Cornelius O'Connor, a New York financier, returned late Thursday night from the Empire mine, seven miles south of Jerome, to his home in New York city. He left yesterday morning for the Empire mine by way of Jerome. He is a heavy shareholder in the syndicate that recently took over the Empire and Elba.

"I am very favorably impressed with Yavapai county as a mining country," he said in conversation with a Journal-Miner man. "I have visited many mining districts in my career and can say from experience that the surface showings in this county are far better than I have seen in any other county."

"Deep mining under intelligent management will prove my assertions," he said. "I am satisfied that the mineral is here and I am well pleased with my investments. My associates in New York will come here soon. They will start something moving when they investigate conditions here. I believe that the county is on the eve of one of the greatest booms in the history of the west."

When asked as to financial conditions in the east, he said: "Business is improving every day. The money market is getting back to its normal state. The people generally are of the opinion that Taft is sure of election. The large interests have great confidence in Taft as well as the great majority of the voters. This confidence is making times better. Taft's election means a general revival of activity all over the country. Next year will be as prosperous as any in the history of the country."

Mr. O'Connor arrived here Thursday morning from San Francisco, with Mrs. O'Connor. He visited the Emporia mine during the day, returning here late Thursday night. He is favorably impressed with the showing in the Emporia shaft and congratulated H. H. Keays, the general manager, on his report of conditions here, saying that New York connections were ready to back his judgment at any and all times.

YAVAPAI COUNTY IS THE REAL EL DORADO

(From Friday's Daily.)

"There is more mineral in Yavapai county than in the entire state of Nevada."

This is the statement made yesterday by E. L. Bartholemew, who recently returned to this county from an 800-mile prospecting trip through the Sage Brush State.

"It is true there are some rich mines in Nevada," he said, "but Yavapai county, especially the southern part, is richer in gold than any section of Nevada. Developments in the Weaver and Bradshaw mountains in the next few years will prove my statements."

"No section of the west has the promising surface showings as the gold belt in which the Congress, Pools Gulch and Octave mines are located. Ledges are there today untouched carrying better values on top than many of the properties of other states in the development of which thousands and thousands of dollars are being spent. The veins of the district are strong ones and easily traced. The district is proving richer and richer every year. New properties are being developed in a modest way that will find in production the mines I mentioned."

"It is a disappointment to leave this territory and go prospecting in Nevada. The more one sees of the Nevada districts, the more he desires to return to this county."

Bartholemew has had charge of mining operations all over the west, in Mexico, South America and South Africa. He was mine superintendent of the Octave mine several years and has had charge of other large operations in the territory. He has a small force developing a group of five claims two miles south of the Yarnell mine in the Weaver mountains. He has good-sized ore bodies exposed in several openings. A carload of ore shipped from the property last year netted him a handsome profit after mining, transportation and treatment charges were deducted.

He is here to represent Alvarado precinct in the country republican convention Saturday.

VAST DIVIDENDS PAID BY LAKE COMPANY

Calumet And Hecla Have Dispensed Millions Since 1871

BOSTON, Mass., Oct. 2.—With the payment today of a quarterly dividend of $5 a share the total amount of dividends received by the stockholders of the Calumet and Hecla Mining Company reaches the enormous sum of $107,350,000. The dividends have been paid without interruption since 1871. The capital consists of 100,000 shares of the par value of $25.

To Alexander Agassiz, son of the celebrated scientist, Louis Agassiz, is due the credit for the development of the great Calumet and Hecla properties. Alexander Agassiz, like his father before him, is closely associated with Harvard University. As a result of their faith in Agassiz and his discoveries, many of the older families of Boston have accumulated millions from their early investments in the copper properties.

Though ultimately better known to the world in other lines, it was as a geologist that Louis Agassiz won his earliest reputation, and it was through his knowledge of geology and mineralogy that Alexander was able to bring out the full value of the property. It was in 1865 that he undertook to see what the Hecla property was like and went to Michigan for that purpose. Copper had been mined there to a greater or lesser extent by the whites since 1845. Agassiz did not get far in his investigations before he became satisfied of the mine's value. Returning to Boston he succeeded in organizing a company and raising sufficient capital to work the mine. He did so well with the Hecla mine that he was asked to develop the Calumet property also. As a result the two were eventually consolidated under the name of Calumet and Hecla.

Most of the time since 1869 the yield of the Calumet and Hecla has been steady and large. The hard times from 1873 to 1878 cut it down, but as long ago as 1888, in which year the memorable Calumet and Hecla fire did so much damage to the timbering, the annual output was 12,000 tons. Since then it has reached more than 65,000 tons in a single year, a record that has been eclipsed by only one copper property in the world—the Anaconda mine of Montana.

PHYSICIANS JUDGE MARY HARTNETT INSANE

(From Wednesday's Daily.)

Worn, haggard and depressed, Mrs. Mary Hartnett appeared in the probate court yesterday, where the examination into her alleged insanity was continued. The evidence resulted in her commitment to the territorial asylum for the insane.

Since her arraignment on the charge September 12, she has been an inmate of the county hospital under the observation of examining physicians, who desired to thoroughly satisfy themselves of her condition before giving a decision in her case.

Under the best of treatment she gradually grew worse until a few days ago, when she became hysterical and threatened those around her with bodily harm. She made several attempts to inflict bodily injury on her attendants in the last two days. Every action indicated beyond all doubt her insanity.

She is under the hallucination that she is the owner of land in Ireland and that those around her are conspiring to deprive her of holdings. She avoids the society of anyone and refuses food, giving as a reason that she fears it is poisoned.

She will be taken to the insane asylum at Phoenix today.

MAKES MINE SALE OF $60,000 THEN IN JAIL

(From Friday's Daily.)

Closing a deal for the sale of his mines seven miles south of Jerome for $60,000 and surrendering himself to the sheriff at the request, it is said, of one of his bondsmen, is the experience of Ed Hurley, who is now in the county jail awaiting the action of the next grand jury.

Hurley shot and killed a man named Conroy in a gun deal at his mining camp near the Equator mine several months ago. He was held to answer to the charge of murder before the next grand jury under $7,500 bonds at his preliminary examination. He furnished the bonds later and was released.

He returned to his camp and continued the development of his group of claims, located near the Equator mine. Last week he closed a deal for the sale of the claims, receiving a small cash standing. It is alleged, one of his bondsmen withdrew from the bond. Hurley came in Tuesday night from Jerome and surrendered himself voluntarily to the sheriff.

GOOD SULPHIDES AT 12TH LEVEL OF GEM MINE

Great Progress Made In Developing Orphan Property

GLOBE, Oct. 2.—Probably no mine in Globe district has shown greater improvement in the past month than Globe Consolidated has, and yesterday's news of the developments in that property was the best that has yet been given out.

Manager McCarthy says that the Gem vein in the west drift, 12th level, has widened to five feet of good ore, the stratum of chalcopryite carried by the vein and which at first was quite small, having spread until now it almost fills the vein. Assay returns from a sample of the ore taken from the drift on Monday show it to be sulphide of an excellent quality, carrying 6.5 per cent copper, 27 per cent iron, and 35 per cent sulphur. The improvement in the vein as the drift advanced has been quite rapid, and it is not unlikely that the values may continue to increase.

The success of Globe Consolidated now seems to be assured. A mineralized zone 200 feet wide on the Gem claim is being exposed, and two sulphide veins of great promise have been opened for more than a thousand feet in length. The Future Copper vein is about eight feet wide and is shipping ore, while the Gem vein from present indications will prove very profitable to mine.

The ore developments in the Gem mine are of great importance to the camp.

The main shaft has reached 200 feet in depth. At 185 feet the dip of the vein carried it out of the shaft and it is not expected that the vein will be again cut in sinking. At 250 feet a station will be cut and a crosscut run to cut the Iron Lode vein.

The machinery is working smoothly and three shifts of four men each are driving the shaft down at the rate of about forty feet per week. No stop will be made except to cut the 250-foot station, until the 500 is reached, when a crosscut will be started to cut the big schist belt on the south. This crosscut will cut four well defined ledges and considerable is expected of this portion of the proposed development.

Further improvement is reported in the mine of the Pinto Creek Mining & Smelting Company. The deep tunnel which has been driven far into the mountain, and has been in ledge matter for some distance, is now opening ground that shows increasing mineralization. Chalcopryite and peacock copper in larger seams are observable in the face of the tunnel. The formation, however, is undergoing a still greater improvement as it nearly all shows heavy green copper stain and seems to be leaving the granite, which leads the management to think that it is nearing a contact that may reveal an ore body.

The improvement is certainly very encouraging. Superintendent Robt. J. Reilly, who has been in the east for several weeks, is expected to return about October 10, and the force of miners will then be increased and development work pushed.

The Pinal Mountain Mining Company, which was organized by H. H. Harvey, is incorporated with a capital of 200,000 shares, $5 par. Ten thousand shares of treasury stock is to be offered at $1 per share.

The company owns ten mining claims situated about six and a half miles south of Globe. About 1000 feet of development has been done on the property. A vein of sulphide ore is opened by a tunnel 140 feet in length, and two feet of the ore is high grade chalcopryite, assaying about 20 per cent copper and $17 in gold. In addition there is two feet of ore that carries the same gold value and 8 per cent copper.

H. H. Harvey, who is in charge of the property, has taken out eight or ten tons of high grade ore.

ASK FOR EXHIBITS.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

It is only a little over a month until the opening of the Fourth Arizona Fair at Phoenix, and as the time draws near it is necessary that every citizen, mining company and board of trade in Yavapai county get busy to see that a comprehensive exhibit is shown at the fair.

The interest which has been displayed by the county in the Albuquerque fair must not be allowed to overshadow the necessity of a big display at our own home institution. The Commissioner for Yavapai county is Mr. A. A. Johns, of Prescott, and premium books can be secured from him or by application to the secretary at Phoenix.

This county should also have several entries in the cowboy relay race, for which there are purses aggregating $500, and of which Mr. J. W. Francis, of Flagstaff, is the superintendent.

The horse cart races should not be forgotten, as there has been two magnificent silver trophies offered, and $1000 in money prizes. One of the towns in Yavapai county should get at least one of these cups and some of the money.

DEMOCRATS' STRONGHOLD INVADED BY CAMERON

SOLOMONVILLE, Sept. 28.—Despite the Highland Chief was in a Democratic stronghold last night his meeting was the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in Solomonville.

Earnest attention was paid to Candidate Cameron's remarks, showing that Democrats are considering in a cold blooded way the expediency of voting this election for a Republican delegate. Time and again Cameron's remarks on territorial issues were loudly applauded by men who previously would not have bothered to attend a Republican meeting.

Attorney General Clark and Joe Morrison also addressed the gathering. Cameron at the close of his speech was warmly congratulated by many prominent Democrats upon his clear and manly campaign, so marked in contrast with the tactics of his opponents in various parts of the territory.

Cameron's cooperation and approval of the many beneficial acts of Governor Kibbey's administration is bringing him the support of a large number of tax payers.

It is admitted by Democrats here that Smith's old time majority in Gila valley will be reduced to a meagre showing.
